Let Us Think Nationally

Can the people of Canada be taught to think nationally, and act as a nation? In other words, of regarding themselves as citizens of nine separate and distinct Provinces, instead chiefly with the solution of their own problems and solving their own policies, and more or less indifferent to the effect on the rest of the Dominion?

The people of Great Britain have long thought in terms of the Empire, even of the world, rather than of their own tight little Isle, and in the several States of the United States, derive their insistence that State rights be respected, the people think and act as citizens of the Union rather than of the individual States. Perhaps because we are yet very young as a confederation, and also because as a people we are so few in number scattered over a narrow strip thousands of miles long across a continent, Canadians have not so generally adopted the attitude of thinking and acting nationally.

What, for example, does the average resident on these Western prairies know or care about the vital problems confronting the people of the Maritime Provinces? Would the West be willing to forego the adoption of a policy which would mean a large measure of development and prosperity for it, if at the same time it meant adversity and loss to the Maritime Provinces? And would not the manufacturers and workmen of Ontario and Quebec half enjoy the adoption of any policy which meant millions to them, even though it might spell disaster for the Eastern Provinces?

Canadian farmers are generally disposed to favor lower Customs tariffs and disregard the policy of protection as inimicable to the best interests of the Dominion as a whole. Nevertheless, a few days ago a representative convention of Quebec farmers demanded the placing of duties on certain products in order to protect themselves regardless of the effect on the great body of Canadian consumers. At the same time they declared in favor of an export duty on pulpwood in order to force manufacture in Quebec and thus create a larger home market for themselves, and flatly rejected an appeal made to them that the adoption of such a policy would mean hardship and ruin for countless farmers in other Provinces who were dependent on the export market for their pulpwood.

In like manner the British Columbia fruit growers demand tariff protection in order to keep United States fruits out of the Prairie markets. Niagara fruit and vegetable growers take the same attitude, and seemingly do not care one iota for it, as a result of which all Canadian buyers of fruit and early vegetables must suffer.

And the Western wheat grower, would he modify his demands for free agriculture in order to do so conclusively, that such a policy would mean ruin for the Canadian implement industry?

These questions are asked wholly with the object of leading Canadians to think for a moment on their own attitude to their common country. Admittedly all sections have made sacrifices in the past in order that the whole might benefit, but has it not been done almost under compulsion and most unwillingly and grudgingly, and through no real patriotic desire to advance Canada and build up and develop a really strong and great country?

Canadians of all classes and in all parts of the Dominion were willing to sacrifice for Canada in time of war... Is it not possible to so imbue our people with love for Canada that they will voluntarily display the same spirit for Canada in time of peace?

Unquestionably there is great need for unity of thought and action, nationally, in this Dominion today. Never was the need more manifest and quite so pressing, but, unfortunately, instead of the lines of cleavage and division gradually disappearing, they are becoming wider and more accentuated. At a time when old racial and religious feelings and bitterness is being dispelled, here in Canada we seem to be making it difficult, political and economic factors which are uniting quickly, to expand future development just as effectively as did those old and foolish quarrels.

Canada is a big country in every way. It is big in territory, big in the wealth of its natural resources, big in its possibilities, yes, big in its manhood and womanhood. But in its national conception it is small. Its people lack vision and broadmindedness in some of those things which are essential to national greatness.

Individually, the citizens of Canada should strive to cultivate the habit of thinking nationally. Once they establish that habit, constructive policies and actions on national lines will automatically and quickly follow.

L. C. Brand, Glendale capitalist, the donor of the plane, conveyed possession to Captain Smith in a bill of sale. The plane is a three-passenger Le Pere, rebuilt by Donald Douglas, builder of the round-the-world flyers, and is valued at $30,000.

Earl of Oxford and Asquith

Herbert Asquith Has Decided On His New Title

Herbert Asquith, recently raised to the peerage, has decided to assume the title of Earl of Oxford and Asquith. Letters patent under the Great Seal will be issued shortly, conferring on the Liberal leader that title, which is a compound, or dual one, not rare in nomenclature of British nobility.

The title is an entirely new one and in no way an extension of the old title, Earl of Oxford. He will use both titles in his signature.

NERVILINE

It Acts Quicky

Mr. W. T. Greenway, formerly connected with the Guelph newspaper staff, has written over twenty articles on the use of Nerviline in our home and office, and I can assure you we will be without it.

As a remedy for all pains, headaches, toothaches, cramps, etc., in the stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline. Remember this, whenever you will pain run on you, apply Nerviline and "both governments should experience deep satisfaction in their solicitude that material debts shall also be discharged."

For Elimination Of Rust
Menace Very Important

Dr. J. H. Grisdale Places Loss Last Year At $50,000,000

Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, states that the most important work being undertaken in Canada is rust research. Last year the farmers of the west had lost $50,000,000 from the rust menace, and he said a systematic research into the whole question was now planned with the hope of ultimately discovering a wheat immune to rust, and which at the same time contains the desired milling proportion, in addition to being able to be harvested efficiently.

Expects France To Pay

U.S. President Replies to Statement of French Ambassador

Responding to a statement by the new French ambassador to the United States, Emile Daechelein, that the "material debts" of nations as well as their debts of gratitude must be paid, President Coolidge declared that the United States expected that the French would pay their debts of gratitude as well as of gratitude she owed France as a result of French aid in the American revolution. Referring to the United States participation in the great war, the president added that thus great the debt of gratitude had been paid and "both governments should experience deep satisfaction in their solicitude that material debts shall also be discharged."

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

Little children quickly get out of sorts but a prompt cure will right them again. Most of their troubles arise in the first place from the stomach and bowels; that is why a good clearing out is the best preventive. See your doctor, Mother, why not let Baby's Own Tablets keep your children well. Unlike that ill-smelling, rank tasting castor oil, Baby's Own Tablets are pleasant to take and their action, though thorough, is gentle and causes no disturbance to either the bowels or the stomach. Children like Baby's Own Tablets are a never failing remedy for relieving constipation and indigestion; when they are used in colds they help to clear up the fever and pain and make the teething period painless. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Welcome Home

Tuesday, February 17th, Nearly Midnight!

The old Landrymone mansion appeared quite dark and invincible but not so to the gang of midnight marauders; who suddenly appeared from nowhere and rent the air with their bloodthirsty yells.

Needless to say the sleepy inhabitants were forced to surrender under heavy fire.

The intention was of course to "Welcome Home" Frank and his bride, who formerly taught at Anderson school. The night was spent quite happily with cards, songs and speeches, etc. Frank escaped rather fortunate as the gentlemen present could not find a "blanket" that could be relied upon to receive him 200 lbs. The merry-making was brought to a close with the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne" and everyone sought their way home feeling rather sleepy about six a.m. Lots of Luck to Frank and his bride.

Entertainment & Social Evening a Success

The Entertainment and Social Evening held Friday evening last, under the auspices of the Catholic Ladies' proved a great success.

About 200 people were present and all report having had a good time.

The programme, while short, was admitted of a very high order.

The Robertson girls outdid all previous efforts, and some of their numbers would compare very favorably with the best professional talent. Little Miss Hogan surprised everyone present and showed evidence of a very bright future. Mr. F. Ruddy and the Halliday Orchestra also acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner.

The Ladies in charge wish to thank all who patronized the affair, as well as those who contributed to make it a success.

NOTICE To Producers of Eggs & Butter

Commencing February 25th, I will operate an Egg Canning and Butter Grading Station at Crossfield for P. Burns and Co. Limited, in the building recently vacated by the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Both Eggs and Butter will be bought on Grade and paid for at time of purchase by Cash Coupons. These Coupons will be payable anywhere in Crossfield.

All arrangements have been made to ensure Patrons of efficient service at all times.

We further introduce the famous movie star "Adrian Dee", whose father is pickled in Oil and Vinegar. Good music for Dance assured.

Gyro Tuxis Square

A very successful meeting was held last Tuesday, for the purpose of re-organizing the above square, there being some sixteen boys in attendance. The meeting was opened by a short address from the Mentor of the group, which was followed by the election of officers for the ensuing session. The following officers were elected:-

President: Charles Purvis
Vice-Pres.: John Becker
Secy-Treas.: Ken. Borbridge.

The group being in urgent need of funds, it was decided that, for the present, most of the week-day meeting period be devoted to preparing for a rollicking good nigger minstrel entertainment. This decision had the endorsement of all the boys who, each and everyone, appeared to be "rarin' to go!", all eager to give of their best to make the movement a success. To aid the boys in this venture, Mr. Havens has very kindly put his hall at their disposal once a week.

It was further arranged to hold Bible Class each Sunday, at 1 p.m. under the supervision of Mr. A. L. B. Nicholson. This feature of the boy's work should prove to be very interesting and it is expected that the subjects to be brought under discussion will be of excellent value not only to the Tuxis boys but also to all other older boys and men who may be interested and who are cordially invited to attend.

A hearty invitation is also given at this time to all eligible boys (those between the ages of 15-18 inclusive) to come in the ministry. It is thought that perhaps some would not wish to join because of the fact that they might not be able to attend all meetings; but, in such cases arrangements can be made whereby each member can always keep in touch with, and help with the work that is going on.

All particulars of the programme of work and sport under way can be had at any time from the aforementioned officers, also from most of the boys in town.

Meetings:-
Sunday - 1 p.m. United Church.
Monday - 8 p.m. Hayes Hall.

HERE and THERE

Canada stands out to the intending British emigrant as the most attractive of the Dominions, according to General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who has just completed a tour of this country. The army is now considering the establishment in western Canada of a training school for boys who wish to take up farming there.

Another fine new station was made available to the public by the Canadian Pacific Railway when the company's new building at Schreiber, Ont., was opened by H. J. Humphrey, general superintendent of the Algoma district, on December 11. This structure, which replaces the former frame building, is of modern fireproof construction. It will also house the superintendent of the Schreiber division and his staff.

Three times winner of the world's champion wheat prize at the Chicago Live Stock Show, including this year's prize, J. C. Mitchell, Agoma, Alta., sailed for the Old Country on a demonstration tour aboard the Canadian Pacific steamer "Montclarier" on December 12. Mr. Mitchell states the prize wheat is improving each year and that exhibits which would have won first prize twelve years ago now seldom take higher than fifteenth place.

Within a radius of forty miles from Taber, a small town in the heart of the settled southern district of Alberta, antelope antelope estimated to number 1,000 are said to be very numerous. The prairie antelope was once most extinct but protective measures put into force have saved the species and present indications are that this splendid game animal may soon increase to an extent rendering an open season possible and adding greatly to Alberta's attraction for sportsmen.

One of the heaviest trades ever experienced by the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with its traditional Christmas sailings to the British Isles was experienced this year. A special train from the West to Montreal was required for the accommodation of passengers for the company's steamer, the "Montclarier," sailing December 12 from St. John, N.B., while one or two special sailings were made from Montreal to St. John and extra sections on the Imperial, the Canadian Pacific transcontinental, were required daily for steamship passengers during that same week.

CAPTAIN BLOOD
(RAFAEL SABATINI)

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," A Vivid Picture with J. Warren Kerrigan
in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, is wrongfully condemned as a traitor in the ill-fated rebellion of Monmouth against King James. With Jerry Pitt he is sent to the galleys as a slave, but is bought by Colonel Bishop at the behest of Arabela, his niece. A Spanish galley commands him. Peter, disguised as Valdes, slips ashore, puts on false colors and captures Bridgetown. Peter Blood saves the life of Mary Trall and sends Arabela to her. Mary is safety back in town. She then leads his fellow rebels-convict on board Don Diego's ship and they capture it when the Spaniards are feasting in the hold. When the rebels, whose United military defense had failed, realizes that the ship longer threatens the town he goes aboard, where he is given command. Peter Blood now captain of the Spanish galleon, with Jeremy Pitt, Wolverine and Hargrave as his aides. Wolverine has had a hand in Colonel Bishop to the yard arm, but Blood threatens to quit their leadership unless his orders are obeyed.

He paused. There was no answer. But they stood hand-gag and half-muslin before him, save Hargrave who shrigged and smiled weakly. Mary Blood resumed:

"Well, please to understand that aboard a ship there is one captain. So I swung again to the snarled Colonel. "Thought I, promise you your life. I must—as you've heard—keep you aboard as a hostage for the good behaviour of Governor Steel and what's left of the fort until we've got sea."

"But . . ."

"There is no more to be said, gentlemen. My name is Blood—Captain Blood, if you please, of this ship the Cinco Llagas, take as a price of war from Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdes, who is my prisoner aboard!"

The officers went, though not without some hustling, regardless of the bellowsings of Colonel Bishop, whose monstrous rage was fanned by terror at finding himself at the mercy of these men of whose cause to hate him he was very fully conscious. As they were running close to the headland east of the bay, Peter Blood returned

Compound

Familiar, Saak—"For two or three days you often say that I have pains in my back and sides that I could do nothing—could not even lie quietly down and my head ached, too. I wish this was over. This year, was worse after I was married. I was on a farm with not a house nearer than four miles and there was not a person to advise me as to the folk living here. My sister-in-law told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have been thankful for its help. After taking the medicine for three months I can say it has helped me a lot and I am now well again. I want to recommend the Vegetable Compound to others and you may publish my testimony."—Mrs. HELEN BALANOFF, Finsbury, Saskatchewan.

Often an aching trouble will cause a general upset of the system. Such symptoms as nervousness, painful times, irregularity, backache and headache indicate a general disturbance in the body.

Women so bothered should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. This dependable medicine has helped thousands of women and it is recommended by the physicians of the world. Try it today. Your druggist sells this medicine.

to the Colonel, who, under guard and panic-stricken, had dejectedly resumed his seat on the coming of the main hatch.

"Can't ye swim, Colonel? It's a mercy for you I'm not by nature as bloodthirsty as some of my friends here. It's the devil's own labor I've had to prevail upon them to be vindictive."

It was then thought of Arabela Bishop that had urged him to mercy and had led him to oppose the natural vindictiveness of his fellow-slaves until he had been in danger of precipitating a mutiny. It was equally to the fact that the Colonel was her uncle, although he did not even begin to suspect such a cause, that he owed such mercy as was now being shown him. Colonel Bishop mastered him-self and rose. Peter Blood gave an order. A plank was run out over the gunwale, and lashed down.

"Just take a little walk, Colonel," said a smooth, mocking voice behind him.

Still impudent, Colonel Bishop looked around in hostility. He glared them sound venomously and incoherently, then loosed his hold and stepped out upon the plank. Three steps he took before he lost his balance and went tumbling into the green depths below.

When he came to the surface again, gasping for air, the Cinco Llagas was already some furlongs to leeward. But the roaring cheer of mocking vainglory from the rebels-convict reached across the water, to drive the iron of impotent rage deeper into his soul.

CHAPTER X.

Don Diego

Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdes awoke, and with languid eyes in aching head, he looked round the cabin, which was flooded with sunlight from the square windows astern. Between the pain in his head and the confusion in his mind, he found coherent thought impossible.

He was beginning to torture his mind with conjecture, when the door opened, and to Don Diego's increasing mystification he beheld his best suit of clothes step into the cabin. The suit paused to close the door, then advanced toward the couch on which Don Diego was extended, and in the suit came a tall, slender gentleman of about Don Diego's own height and shape. Seeing the wide, startled eyes of the Spaniard upon him, the gentleman laughed his stride.

"Awake, eh? That's he in Spain."

"With the devil in him he is," he said. "And what the devil are you doing in my clothes and aboard my ship?"

Blood. This ship, like this home of ours, is mine by right of conquest. Just as you, Don Diego, are my prisoner."

"And my son? What of my son?" he cried. "He is in the boat that brought me aboard."

"Your son is safe—he and the boat's crew together with your gunner and his men are snugly in irons under hatches."

Don Diego sank back on the couch, his glittering dark eyes fixed upon the tawny face above him. He accepted the situation with the fortitude of a fatalist. The light blue eyes played over him like points of steel.

"You are not afraid to die, Don Diego?"

"The question is off-siding, sir."

"Would you be willing, to earn life and liberty—for yourself—your wife, and the other Spaniards who are with you?"

"To earn it, do you say?" Why, if the services you would propose is one that cannot hurt my honor"

"Could I be guilty of that?" protested the Captain. "I realize that even a pirate has his honor. The only man among us schooled in the art of navigation is fevered, delirious, in fact, as a result of certain ill-treatment he received ashore before we carried him away with us. I can handle a ship in action, and there are one or two men aboard who can assist me; but of the higher mysteries of seamanship and of the art of finding a way over the trackless wastes of ocean, we know nothing. We desire to make for a much settled port. Can't we be slightly more . . . possible. Will you pledge me your honor, if I release you upon parole, that you will navigate us thither? If so, we will release you and your surviving men upon arrival there."

Don Diego strode away in thought to the stern windows. "I accept," he said.

FOR INSTRUCTION OF RURAL YOUTH IN AGRICULTURE

Prince Albert.—The Saskatchewan Government is considering making provision for giving boys and girls on the farms of the province some form of agricultural instruction.

This announcement was made by Hon. C. M. Hamilton, minister of agriculture, as a commentary on the results of the dairy cattle judging contests at the Saskatchewan Dairy Association convention.

—City boys scored heavily over their equals, coming in the competitions, and Mr. Hamilton told the contestants the fine showing made by the collegiate students demonstrated that it was not enough to have intelligence and ideals, but good training was also necessary. The government therefore had under consideration the provision of some form of instruction that would give the boys and girls on the farms the same careful instruction as those in the cities are now receiving at the collegiate institutes.

Professor Shaw said that the result of the competition did not mean that the country boy was not every bit as smart as the city boy, but that he had better training from well equipped agricultural experts.

There was no finer agricultural work carried on in the province and a number of the boys who had their first experience in judging at one of these contests had won honors for these selves and the province in national and international competitions and the brightest boys were generally the dairy boys, whose fathers were generally one, two or three jumps ahead of the other fellow.

Closer Butter Inspection

Want Legislation Passed in Saskatchewan to Protect the Consumer

Prince Albert.—A resolution sent in by mail to the dairy convention reported that in at least one city in the province, butter grading as low as 36 is sold as No. 1 butter, thus causing the consumer to lose confidence in government grading and the quality of creamery butter. To overcome this, it is suggested that the legislature immediately establish that all point butter have the grade on the wrapper and that government butter graders have authority as inspectors to secure samples from retailers from time to time and see that the actual grade corresponds with the grade as shown on the wrapper. The resolution passed.

Decide on Reciprocal Treatment

Delhi, India.—A bill proposing reciprocal treatment for British dominions and colonies and the United States, which treat Indians as an inferior race, was adopted by the legislative assembly by a vote of 49 to 41. A bill was also introduced proposing simple punishment for seditionists.

British Surveying Palestine

Jerusalem.—A complete real estate survey of the Holy Land has been started by the British administration in Palestine. Many little and boundary lines are in dispute, holding up the agricultural settlement, because Zionist settlers from other countries have been unable to purchase land.

May Reduce Price Of Soldier Settlement Land

Ottawa.—A revolutionary proposal as to soldier's land, held before the operation of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, is a prospective subject of legislation. Last year a committee of the house favored a rebate of interest and a marked easing up in regard to payments for stock equipment. This has been considered to go about it the wrong way. What is now preferred is the constitution of an authority, to which the soldier farmers may appeal, if they consider the amount they paid for their land is excessive, under present conditions. In the event of a case being established, the value of the land could be reduced and with it the obligations of the purchaser.

Name Epidemic Under Control

No Extra Nurses Required in Message From Doctor

Seattle, Wash.—The diphtheria epidemic in Nome, Alaska, is under control. Cases have been treated with a portion of 300,000 units of anti-toxin which arrived from Nome. Dr. Curtis Welch, acting assistant surgeon at Nome, telephoned Dr. G. M. Magruder, in charge of the thirteenth district, United States Health Service, Seattle.

"I am not worried about the situation," Dr. Welch's message said. "I have used 30,000 units of anti-toxin. There are twenty-nine typical cases, thirty-five suspects, and five deaths to date. Send no nurses. There are four in hospital here and five others we can call in emergency."

New Canadian Loan Surprise To London

Placement of £5,000,000 Six Months' Treasury Bills Unexpected

London.—The placement of the recent arrangement with the Canadian Government of the proposed redemping at an early date of Dominion 4% cent bonds of £5,000,000, it was assumed here the government at Ottawa did not propose to renew the loan, but intended to provide for its redemption out of the recent heavy borrowing in New York. The stock market, therefore, was somewhat surprised to find a line of £5,000,000 Canadian six month treasury bills had just been placed here at a 4 per cent discount in order to provide for the necessary maturity.

The anticipation that this portion of the flotation here shortly of the sterling loan is not generally entertained.

British Publishers Ask For Postage Reduction

Contend Penny Rate Would Help Home and Export Trade

London.—That penny postage be restored in the United Kingdom was the request made by a delegation representative of the printing and paper-making industries of Great Britain. The delegation contended that restoration of the penny rate would stimulate trade, reduce unemployment and help the British home and export trade. It was pointed out to the postmaster general that sales of postage stamps in New Zealand had increased 25 per cent since the New Zealand Government had reduced the postal rates.

Must Pay Large Income Tax

St. John's, Nfld.—Sir Edgar Bowring, of the Bowring Company, steamship owners of St. John's, must pay the government of Newfoundland an income tax of $124,000, according to a decision of the supreme court, which unanimously upheld the government's claim for that amount.

The Saskatchewan School Trustees' Convention

Large Gathering is Expected When Convention Opens at Saskatoon

Regina.—The Saskatchewan school trustees' convention, which is being held in the Third Avenue Methodist Church, Saskatoon, February 25th, 26th and 27th. The executive expects the largest convention to date. President James F. Bryant is the authority for the statement that this year's programme is the best in the history of the association.

The following speakers will take part in the programme: Sir Clifford Sifton, Hon. Charles A. Dunning, A. E. Warren, the Canadian National Railways' professor Zinck, a speaker of international reputation, Mr. H. Webb, Mayor of Whitchurch, will speak on the Hudson's Bay Route. Fred W. Dates, B.A., M.Sc., M. Latour, B.A., Hon. Sam Latta, J. S. Mills, M.A., J. H. Galloway, B.A., R. F. Blacklock, Malcolm MacBride, editor of the Merton Sun, W. M. Morris, secretary of the Ontario School Trustees' Association. It is expected also that Canon Cody, of Toronto, will speak.

A feature of the convention will be a debate on the question, "Resolved that in the opinion of this convention the municipal system of School Administration is superior to the present system." Affirmative speakers, B. McSweeney, J. M. Thomas; negative speakers, Joseph Needham, A. R. Smith.

All evening programmes will be broadcasted over the radio from the Saskatoon Radio Station.

Dominion Loan in London

London.—Applies to the announcement that the Canadian Government is making arrangements on the London market to replace a shortly maturing sterling loan by "six months" sterling treasury bills. The loan says: "We expect in the sight of the end of the period in which New York has been the only market from where Canada could supply her financial requirements apart from those supplied from her local resources."

Would Combine Provinces To Make Only Five

Quebec.—Believing that Canada was over-governed, C. E. Gaul, Conservative M.L.A. for St. George, Montreal, advanced a novel scheme in the legislature. Mr. Gaul thought a good way to help matters would be combining up some of the provinces, namely, putting three maritime provinces together in one province, Ontario and Quebec in one province, Manitoba and Saskatchewan in one province, and Alberta and British Columbia into one province. These, with Ottawa, would mean five governments in Canada, and that should be sufficient.

B.C. Officials Welcome Japanese Squadron

Premier Oliver Paid Tribute to Anglo-Japanese Treaty

Vancouver.—Confidence in the continued friendship of Japan and the British Empire as a guarantee of world peace was expressed by speakers at a banquet given by the Federal Government to Vice-Admiral Saburo Hyakutake and officers of the Japanese training squadron, in port here. Persons representing the official, military, naval and business life of the community attended the function, in addition to about 70 officers from the Japanese cruisers.

President John Oliver, speaking on behalf of the Provincial Government, paid tribute to the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which he declared, had been a potent agency in maintaining world peace in Asia.

Vice-Admiral Hyakutake expressed appreciation for the welcome extended to the squadron, and thanked Canada for its contribution to the peace of Tokyo and Yokohama after the earthquake.

Britain Will Protect Industries

Scheme Arranged to Avert Unfair Competition From Abroad

London.—Industries in Britain may henceforth secure protection if they prove to the satisfaction of the board of trade that they are suffering unfair and abnormal competition, and also demonstrate that the industry is managed efficiently and economically, but the period for protection will be limited by a finance bill whereby such protection is made legal. Moreover, no industry will be compelled to remain in a protected position for an indefinite period of time, but will be allowed to compete again regarding food and drink. The following summarizes a long white paper relating to the government safeguarding of industries policy and which has resulted in a mixed reception in the press.

Detectives in Role of Guests at Principal Hotel in London

London.—Proprietors of the night clubs and habitudes of these resorts suffered a jolt upon learning that Scotland Yard has had its eye on them for weeks. Detectives disguised as guests, and attired in evening dress, have been in regular attendance at all the principal clubs, gathering evidence for the home secretary, Sir Joynson-Hicks, who is preparing a bill for parliament under which the police would have greater powers of supervision.

SURVEYING BY AIR IS CHANGING MAP OF CANADA

Ottawa.—Aerial photography in Canada has opened a new world to the map maker. A. M. Naraway, controller of surveys, topographical survey of Canada, told the association of Dominion Land Surveyors at the 18th annual convention here. Mr. Naraway outlined the work undertaken by the department of the interior in surveying by air. "Inaccessible forest or marshy areas are mapped much more rapidly and with a very much reduced cost," he said.

Such rapid progress had been made during the past year that over 40,000 square miles had been successfully photographed in various parts of the country from Nova Scotia to Alberta. Maps of the entire areas were in the course of preparation, and would be issued early this year.

From the work already completed, it was known that so many changes in the shapes of lakes had been discovered, and so much additional information had been added, that the maps of various parts of Canada, especially those in the interior, would be almost completely altered, and an entirely new impression of the country would be created.

Lives Lost In Snowslide

Avalanche in B.C. Demolishes Ranch House and Kills Two People

Nelson, B.C.—Two lives snuffed out, a ranch house destroyed, and a railway line closed for the season, are the results reported of Kootenay snowslides, following days of thaw and rain.

A snowslide at Queen's Bay demolished the ranch house of John H. Hoyle, killed Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle in their beds, and carried away the upper portion of the house, in which a son, John Hoyle, aged 30, and a woman servant had their rooms. Young Hoyle and the woman made their escape through the roof. The bodies of the aged couple were dug out later.

Relative Industrial Development Of Canada And U. S. Shows Rare Business Opportunities

The relative commercial and industrial development of Canada and the United States emphasizes the outstanding business opportunities of the Dominion. Fred V. Sturtevant, D.L.S., of the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, thus summarized the position of Canada before the Lions Club of Chicago recently.

The United States presents a remarkable combination of development along practically every main line of human pursuit. Not only has it almost unrivaled strength in agriculture and manufacturing, but it is likewise strong in mining, fishing, forests, etc.

In short, commercially, and industrially, it has balance in a measure that is probably not equalled by any other country in the world.

The United States is an industrial nation which supports the commerce of the Dominion, Canada, like the United States, is strong in agriculture, in mining, in forest industries, in fisheries and in waterpower development, while manufacturing is by no means backward. Of these six major forms of enterprise there are only two which Canada in proportion to her population has developed to a lesser degree than the United States—manufacturing and mining.

Canada has already become a considerable manufacturing country, particularly for such lines as the manufacture of foodstuffs and wood products. It has also made considerable progress in almost every other line of manufacturing, particularly textiles, iron and steel. It may be of interest to those who look upon Canada as being largely an agricultural country to learn that in some years the output of manufactured products exceeds in value the total production of agriculture. With, however, a wealth of raw materials of almost every description available within her borders, with good transportation facilities, and with favorable supplies of cheap power, Canadian manufacturing is sure to make great headway in the coming years.

Canadian mining has fully as great a variety of mineral wealth to draw upon and probably an even greater mineralized area to exploit than American mining. But a great portion of Canada still remains to be explored. Huge areas of exceptional promise geologically, have hardly been traversed. The discoveries that have been made within the last generation indicate that the near future Canadian will be relatively just as strong in mining as he is in agriculture, the United States is today. The remarkable record of gold and silver mining in Northern Ontario in the last few years is, we have every reason to believe, but a forerunner of even greater mining expansion. Canada even today leads the world in several items of mineral output and takes very high rank among the mineral producing nations of the world.

A comparison of agriculture, forest industries, fishing and waterpowers shows these basic industries developed to a greater relative degree in Canada.

The United States has roughly twice the area of the population of Canada; proportionately the same should be in Canada about one-twelfth as great as that of the States.

In agriculture we have one-seventh rather than one-twelfth of the area of improved lands, and the value of our gross agricultural revenue each year is considerably in excess of one-twelfth of the total revenue of United States agriculture. Any comparison of agriculture in Canada and the United States would not be complete without reference to the fact that farming in the States, while still a leading industry, is producing a smaller and smaller proportion for export.

It may not be long before the United States may have to import food rather than export it. What this evolution would mean to the Canadian farmer may be surmised. As agriculture in Denmark and Holland developed into an intensive and highly profitable industry by being adjacent to the populous market of England, so the proximity of the great population of the United States cannot but be of benefit to agriculture in Canada.

The United States has a total waterpower installation of about 10,000,000 horsepower. Canada, with one-twelfth the population has about one-third this amount or slightly over 3,500,000 horsepower. Twenty-five years ago the total installation of Canada was about 150,000 horsepower.

A Drive For Rustless Grain Aggressive Campaign Is Launched For This Evil

The Dominion department of agriculture, the research council of Canada, and the universities of the three prairie provinces are joining forces to wipe rust out of the western grain fields. This parasite apparently works less havoc in Alberta than in the other two provinces. In Manitoba it is said to exact a heavy penalty from the wheat grower, while also levying a considerable toll on the arable land. It is only within the last year or so that efforts have been taken to launch an aggressive campaign for the extinction of the pest.

Now that man has been taken in hand the intention evidently is to make the drive a real one, and it may be hoped with some confidence that a few years hence it will be the fault of the farmer himself if his crop is seriously damaged and his revenue cut down by the rust enemy.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Livestock Prices

General Increase in Price Is Shown For All Kinds Of Livestock

Figures supplied by the livestock branch at Ottawa show a general increase in price for all lines of live stock in the principal markets in Canada for December, 1924, compared with those for the corresponding month in 1923. At Toronto the average increase, taking every kind of cattle into consideration, was 35¢ per hundred, for swine $2.25, and for sheep $4.42. At Montreal the increase was 20¢ per cattle, 34¢ for swine, $1.41 for sheep and $1.15. At Winnipeg the advances were 22¢ for cattle, $1.15 for swine and $1.41 for sheep; at Calgary, 15¢ for cattle, $1.39 for swine and $1.40 for sheep; and at Edmonton, 56¢ for cattle, $1.40 for swine and 49¢ for sheep, all per hundred.

British Settlers For The U.S.A.

To Perpetuate British Racial Control In The Great Republic

The United States is making a shrewd bid for the pick of the people who migrate to this continent. Before many years the stream of immigration into the United States will be so regulated that three out of every five new citizens will be British. Since the American people wakened up to the problem, they have set about in earnest to check the flow of immigrants from countries whose people do not readily assimilate with the American people of British origin. They are determined to perpetuate British racial control in the United States.—Ottawa Citizen.

Plan to be Developed by the Saskatchewan Grain Growers Association

Plans for an egg and poultry pool in Saskatchewan will be developed by the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association acting with co-operation and markets branch of the provincial department of agriculture, it was decided at the S.G.G.A. executive meeting.

C. F. Edwards, president; Mrs. Ida McNeal, Expansive, president W.G.M.; Dr. J. Holmes, Aquilis; and W. H. Beest, Moose Jaw, were named a committee to act in organizing the poultry pool.

Mr. Edwards will continue to do the general work of the association.

British Industrialists to Visit Canada

A dispatch from London is to the effect that a party of British industrialists and manufacturers will tour Canada in the near future to investigate the possibilities of the further use of Canadian raw materials and to study Canadian markets.

Deals With Farming Conditions

Interesting Address Delivered At Meeting of Saskatchewan Agricultural Society

Addresses and discussions of great interest were featured at the general session of the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Agricultural Society held recently in Saskatoon.

The Saskatchewan Agricultural Society embrace one hundred and fifty associations. The association had been in existence in 1884. It now has a paid-up membership of 26,025, and is growing slowly but steadily each year.

Mr. N. B. Williams, of Abernethy, president of the organization, was one of the most interesting speakers at this meeting and dealt with several topics of interest to his hearers. In regard to the financial condition of the farm, Mr. Williams said:

"At this time we find conditions somewhat different to those that have prevailed during the past few years. I can say with full confidence in the financial standing of the farmers as a whole or even of the business men of the province, that we are convinced that the year 1925 opens a more hopeful and more optimistic outlook than all round than did the year 1924. Mortgage rates are reported to have been reduced, payments of current interest are being met somewhat more regularly, and more promptly than in the recent past. In some cases the payments on account of principal are being received, and that, generally speaking, loans are in a much more satisfactory condition than they were twelve months ago.

Banks and other financial institutions are in a like improved condition, and I take it that the banks make available to the farmer the same facilities to start him off in business as did the banks in 1924. The evidence of this is seen in the results of all classes of business. Farmers have been rather below normal during the past year, but the picture is not one of two things: that people generally are not buying because they cannot do so, or that they are curtailing their purchases to conform to their ability to pay present bills. In fact, I think the experience of the past ten years in particular has convinced me that credit can really be relied on as well as used, and as a result of the curtailment of credits by the banks, the farmer is not held back in his needs, combined with a legitimate demand on the part of the buying public to use rather than abuse the credit system. The credit system is not based on a cash basis as ever before. Thus any decline in the volume of business being done by retailers is not due to the farmer's reluctance to buy what he wants to purchase or in the near future by a perfectly legitimate use of the credit system."

Although the Saskatchewan crop of 1924 was a failure, the general tendency is to the contrary.

"Although some parts of our province were favored with exceptionally good crops during the past season, the general state of the country is such that we all rejoice to be regretted that many other portions experienced either partial or of unfavorable climate conditions. Some districts suffered again from drought; disastrous hail storms in some districts ravaged the partially developed crops, while others were destroyed in late opening seasons, combined with a severe frost on September 1st, which ruined oats and barley and left very materially affected the yield from the field. The general mean good seed count of high germination quality are at a premium. Even with all these drawbacks, the past season those which have been much above those of 1923, have been much more successful and the market, while it has been largely supplied by the more hopeful outlook which is now prevailing. It is true that the closest possible estimates conservatively put the grain production of the grain crops of the province at something over $11,000,000 less in 1924 than in 1923, or a reduction of something over 20 per cent, while the general estimate of the value of the portion of the 1924 crop that will be marketed at about $20,000,000 less than in 1923, or a reduction of about 9 per cent, and therefore it can be estimated that the net revenue of about $1,200 for the 1924 bushels of wheat in 1924 as against $650 per acre in 1923, will have one effect upon the value and will of the market."

In regard to the wheat pool, he stated that there was a great deal of difficulty in getting the wheat to market. It would be a source of great trouble if the market could not be maintained at a capacity to achieve the greatest good of which it is capable, unless there is a definite production end of the market, an organized and planned effort in regard to mixed marketing offered in regard to mixed marketing for the inelligent market, and to see how even intelligent men can be induced to realize that a tree out of the ground is just like a fish out of water and will assuredly die if it is not returned to its native soil as speedily as possible.

Here is an instance. On a certain Saturday afternoon we saw a man laying out spruce trees on his lawn where he intended to plant them. They were about two feet high, nicely rooted, and stood a good chance of growing if handled right. We happened to pass that way again on the Monday following and they were still there, just as they had been laid down on the Sunday. The roots had been exposed to the sun for two days and, of course, it was hopeless to expect them to live.

There is still far too much of this kind of thing. The prairie is a country of bright sunshine and tree roots rapidly dry out if exposed even for a few minutes. A little ordinary care will often make all the difference between a living tree and a dead one.

Thousands Of Trees And Shrubs Will Be Planted This Season To Beautify Western Plains

(By Archibald Mitchell)

Sprig will soon be with us again and the all-too-short season for planting will see thousands of trees and shrubs planted. Thousands of farm men will plant millions of government trees and thousands more from the commercial nurseries.

Large towns, small cities and villages will plan street trees and construct boulevards, and thousands of private citizens will plant shrubs and trees and flowers, adding their little quota to the work of beautification.

It will be a busy planting spring, and it is a great work this, the creation of shaded streets and lawns, of parks and shrubberies, shelter belts and beautiful places. Great worth, the bringing of beauty and usefulness out of sheer drab, raw, commonplace prairie and unlovely streets. Great work and no wonder energy and enthusiasm mount high as the time approaches. Businesses can catch the spirit individually and then get it collectively. All the organizations worth while, now novelties, the Rotarians, the Kiwanis, the Gyres, the Lions, the boards of trades and the different friendly societies, put themselves behind the movement, both with time and money. Everybody is in it and that so desirable spirit of co-operation in solid selfless community welfare is being reflected today in no better direction than this tree planting movement which is becoming such a feature of the planting season every year on the prairie.

"All of the town of Edmonton, mine, my little corner of it, and I am doing my best to make it a town worth while! That is the attitude."

As a rule the work is well done and the trees grow, especially where the work is large enough to engage expert supervision. Where the supervision is lacking, mistakes are made which would be unbelievable unless one had seen them, little things one would imagine were so self-evident there would seem to be no room for mistake.

Some people never seem to realize that a plant is a precious thing, not to be treated like a common object because it is a living thing with a living entity all its own, a distinct organism, eager to carry on and perform the function for which it is intended. When one sees the criminal negligence of some people with regard to trees, one is sometimes inclined to regret that, in the scheme of things, the great architect did not see fit to endow them with the gift of speech. Then the poor things might have been able to make audible protest and direction when occasion demanded and have had a chance for their lives. Presumably it was expected men would have sufficient common sense and self-evident facts, and so the illustrious grace of tree speech was left out.

One of the most important and surely most obvious facts the tree planter must bear in mind is that the proper place for the roots of a tree is in the ground and not out in the sunshine.

When he sees a fish newly taken out of its proper element, he knows it is out of its proper element. Why? Because he sees it gasp and flop about in its agony. Need to tell him the fish is going to die unless it is returned at once to the water. Even the greatest fool knows that, but it is sometimes difficult to see how even intelligent men can be induced to realize that a tree out of the ground is just like a fish out of water and will assuredly die if it is not returned to its native soil as speedily as possible.

It is often argued that the production of these commodities does not pay and I am submitting that the notable increases indicated by the figures just produced, plus the large increase in the number of farms, will prove that the farmer is profiting increased quantities of his commodity, even though the price is low. Why not cut out the production and the loss as well?

One man may be a successful grower of wheat, while he would be a dismal failure as a dairy farmer, and another may have his mark as a breeder of good horses while he might be a very indifferent grade farmer. This matter of individual aptitude and ability must be taken into account and no system can be evolved to bring financial success to every farmer in the same way because every farmer is a vital element in all the activities of life, agricultural or otherwise."

B.C. Apple Trees For the East

Large Orders Shipped to New Brunswick and Ontario

British Columbia nurseries at Sardis recently shipped a large order of apple trees to the Fruit Growers' Association of New Brunswick. Last season these nurseries sent apple trees to the fruit association, and a recent order from the eastern states has just been filled. More recently, New Brunswick growers are being supplied with a trial shipment of apple trees from B.C. Nurseries at Sardis also recently shipped apple trees to Ontario. It is not so many years ago since apple trees were imported into British Columbia from Ontario—now British Columbia is shipping apple trees to the eastern provinces.

Britain Generous To France

Will Take Annual Payments Irrespective of Dawes' Proceeds

John Bull is proclaimed a very generous fellow for the manner in which he has offered to treat France with relief.

The British government in brief declines to agree that France's payments should be dependent upon Germany's full payment of the Dawes' plan annuities; declares Great Britain is willing to accept fixed annual payments, irrespective of the Dawes proceeds with a further annual charge on the French share in those proceeds, and makes known that Great Britain will devote any surplus beyond the requirements of meeting her United States indebtedness to diminish the burdens upon her allies. The London Times, while approving the British offer, describes it as extraordinarily liberal; a splendid example of sacrifice by a people suffering from an immense decrease in their accumulated wealth, from unparalleled taxation and grievous unemployment.

Remarkable Story From Kenya

Native Chief Killed Leopard With His Bare Hands

From Kenya, where the Duke of York is hunting big game, comes a remarkable story of a native chief named Murigo, who fought and killed a leopard with his bare hands. He fired a shot which caused the leopard to drop and two of his followers rushed forward, but the bullet had only slightly grazed the head of the animal, which sprang upon the natives. Murigo was able to fire again but his shot wounded his man. He seized the leopard by the throat, and dragging it from the two natives, he killed it with his hands after a fierce struggle, in which he was severely mauled.

NERVES ALL GONE

Mrs. J. H. Hallenbeck, 117½ Wellington Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "I was in a gas explosion! It left me with a weak heart, and my nerves were all gone. I suffered everything; couldn't sleep, endure any excitement, and when left alone I felt as if I could scream. I took dizzy spells, often falling and breaking myself. My mother read about your Heart and Nerve Pills, and bought me some, but I've taken so many different kinds of medicine, just seemed that I did not have any confidence in any of them. I took one box of H. & N. Pills, and felt much better. I continued with them until I had used up boxes and did not need any more. I cannot praise, or recommend, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills highly after all they have done for me."

South Africa Looking Forward to Visit of Prince

The Prince of Wales is to visit South Africa at the end of April. He is looking forward to with great eagerness. Every part of the Union wishes to give him a big welcome and is clamoring for inclusion in the itinerary, the Dutch being as eager as the English to know the arrangements for his course of preparation. Engagements, however, are being made with the greatest care so as to ensure that the Prince is not subjected to the ceaseless round of social and sporting functions which somewhat detracted from the enjoyment of his visits elsewhere.

Once More From Nova Scotia

Comes a Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills

Joshua Smith, well-known ex-postmaster, tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved him of kidney trouble.

Port Hood Islands, N.S.—"I used Dodd's Kidney Pills two years ago.... I had poor circulation in my legs and feet, and had water tanias at night to keep my feet warm. I was able to do without them after using one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

I also had urinary trouble, but now I am quite well. My age is 80 years. This statement is made by Mr. J. Smith of this place.

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply heal sick kidneys. They relieved Mr. Smith of all symptoms of kidney trouble. When the kidneys get out of order they fail to strain the impurities out of the blood and general insatiability and weakness ensue. Inflammation in the kidneys is disagreeable but dangerous as well. The impurities in the blood are the seeds of disease. If they are not removed soon enough, Lung Cancer, Diabetes, or Bright's Disease may result.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP (TEMPERANCE LESSON)

Golden Text: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Romans 13:9.

Lesson: Romans 13:1-4.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 73:1-8.

The Text Explained and Illuminated

The Duty of Christians to Owe Civil Authority, verses 1-7.

Writing to the Christians at Rome, Paul counseled every one to "love the higher powers"—the civil authorities, etc.—and then he lays down the principle that the fact of the authority's being established argues that it is right. God, who is perfect, who who defies the power is defying what has been instituted by God and shall be judged accordingly. "Be subject to every ordinance man for the Lord's sake" (1 Pet. 2:13).

necessary part of them, and do not in-

That which abuses its marriage rights is of its own accord.

Local Druggists Have Modern Remedy for Colds

A Vaporizing Salve which is Rushed Over Throat and Chest for Colds.

When Vicks Vapo-Rub, the "external" method of treatment, was tried, bronchitis, deep chest colds, or croup, is applied over throat or chest, the ingredients are released as vapors by the body.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath carry the medication directly to the lungs and the air passages, loosening the phlegm and removing the congestion.

At the same time Vicks acts as a counter-irritant, stimulating the skin and thus helping to break up the inflammation.

Colds are usually relieved over night.

There has been a hue and cry going the length and breadth of the Crossfield district that MacKay Bros. are making money off the farmer in the Hog business.

Allow us to contradict this erroneous statement "Bunk." We make our money off the Packer.

We pay 10c. per hundred more than others and do not use other peoples money to do so.

If we handled hogs on a commission basis and settled for the hogs a week or ten days after they were delivered to us it would not be necessary for us to invest a dollar of our own money, in that event we would be making money off the farmer.

We have been fortunate to date operating on advancing Market, but prices will undoubtedly drop as they did on Feb. 18th, then the Farmer will make money off MacKay Bros. Ask the men who delivered hogs the week from Feb. 11-18.
